

The ATHENA Data Acquisition system

The ATHENA detector is a candidate for EIC IP6 detector. It features a new magnet 3T along with advanced detector systems for tracking, calorimetry and particle identification. The expected rates at EIC will allow a fully streaming DAQ. I will present the planned readout for the different subsystems and the overall scheme the DAQ system.