Code of Conduct

It is the policy of the organizers of Nuclear Data Week (including both the USNDP and CSEWG) that all participants, including attendees, vendors, staff, volunteers, and all other stakeholders will conduct themselves in a professional manner that is welcoming to all participants and free from any form of discrimination, harassment, or retaliation. Participants will treat each other with respect and consideration to create a civil, collegial, inclusive, and professional environment at the meeting. Creating a supportive environment to enable scientific discourse is the responsibility of all participants.

Participants will avoid any inappropriate actions or statements based on individual characteristics such as age, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, marital status, nationality, political affiliation, ability status, educational background, or any other characteristic protected by law. Disruptive or harassing behavior of any kind will not be tolerated. Harassment includes but is not limited to inappropriate or intimidating behavior and language, unwelcome jokes or comments, unwanted touching or attention, offensive images, photography without permission, and stalking.

Violations of this code of conduct policy should be reported to the organizers. Sanctions may range from verbal warning, to ejection from the meeting, to notifying appropriate authorities. Such disciplinary actions will be performed in accordance with the host organization's policies. Retaliation for complaints of inappropriate conduct will not be tolerated. If a participant observes inappropriate comments or actions and personal intervention seems appropriate and safe, they should be considerate of all parties before intervening.

Code of Conduct translation:

Be:

- Professional
- Respectful
- Collegial (we should be friends)
- Civil (even if we disagree on so so many things)

We are passionate about what we do. We cannot let our passions interfere with being a good human.
If there is doubt, pause, take a breath, and think about what you are about to say.

Why:

- Encourages productive scientific discourse (which has enumerable benefits to us and society)

Food

Breaks:

- Coffee/Tea will be provided in the morning and at the afternoon break

Lunch:

- The lunch breaks are a generous 1.5 hours. This is enough time to get food either on or off site.
- Monday & Tuesday the cafeteria is manned by Uncle Giuseppe's Market.
- Uncle Giuseppe's Market: grab and go - soups, sandwiches, and salads along with heat & serve meals
- A restaurant list is provided on the meeting indico site

Dinner:

- BNL is in the middle of nowhere, but in the middle of everything.
- A restaurant list is provided on the meeting indico site.

This is a hybrid meeting

Remote attendees:

- Please mute your connection
- When you have a question/comment, please use the “raise hand” feature.
- The session chair will let you know when it is appropriate to unmute.

In person attendees:

- Most likely you are not logged into zoom and can't see the chat or interact with the remote meeting participants
- Please defer to the session chair if/when it is appropriate to speak.

Session Chairs:

- Your job is to moderate both the in-person and remote conversations. This can be quite a challenge
- Balance discussion between the in-person and remote participants and try to capture all viewpoints.
