

Welcome to the 2025 CSEWG meeting, in 2026!

David Brown

CSEWG Meeting, Nuclear Data Week 2025
6-9 January, 2026

National Nuclear
Data Center

What CSEWG 2025 is about

ENDF/B-VIII.1 is out and it is amazing

So now we begin creating ENDF/B-IX.0

(this, by the way, is what CSEWG 2024 was about!)

Our Values and Expected Conduct

At Brookhaven National Laboratory (BNL) or BNL-sponsored events, discriminatory behavior or harassment of conference participants or presenters will not be tolerated.

- Our Values and Expected Conduct
- CSEWG Code of Conduct

See: <https://www.bnl.gov/nuclear-data-week/logistics.php>

Code of Conduct translation:

Be:

- Professional
- Respectful
- Collegial (we should be friends)
- Civil (even if we disagree on so so many things)

We are passionate about what we do. We cannot let our passions interfere with being a good human.

If there is doubt, pause, take a breath, and think about what you are about to say.

Why:

- Encourages productive scientific discourse (which has enumerable benefits to us and society)

Being professional and collegial extends past the meetings

It includes

- Emails
- Trackers
- Phone calls
- Zoom/Teams/Webex calls
- The text in CSEWG publications

Lunch

If you plan on visiting the cafeteria during lunch,
Food Service encourages you to pre-order using this link:

Other practical items

- This room has a limited number of electrical outlets - There is a “charging station” up by the podium.
- Rapporteurs get priority access to outlets!
- There are microphones, please use one when you give your talk, the ambient mics are very good, but when many people speak it can be hard to hear online
