Isomeric yield ratios in fission and fission fragment angular momentum

Measurement is performed on-line.
Fission products are separated by mass.
Mass resolution at a few 10 keV is possible.

The IYR of In and Cd show clear and opposite trends.
The derived $J_{rms}$ of the fragments correlate with the quadrupole moments of the GS of the fission product.